

COLLECTIVE CARE, ACCESS, AND DISABILITY SOLIDARITY IN ORGANIZING

We need all of us—all of our bodies, all of our wisdom, all of our energy, all of our solidarity—and cannot afford to miss out on anyone’s contributions due to inaccessibility in our movements. This can be inaccessibility due to disability, financial access needs, neurodivergence, visible and invisible identities including race and gender that draw increased state violence, needs for childcare, transportation needs, and so much more.

ACCESS INFO MODEL

- Masks required—we will have extras if you need them. This keeps our bodies safer and those with heightened risk levels safer from state surveillance.
- No ASL for this event (this is a commitment for our next event on 1/24)
- Sidewalk from parking lot and park pathways freshly paved, level, and ADA-compliant
- Ramped park areas ADA-compliant in slope
- Non-metered street parking on Main and 3rd streets (rally intersection)
- L22 bus line stops a half block from the park where we will rally. Email solidarity@email.com for pre-paid fare card
- Seating available including high weight capacity chairs, tall park benches, and large stone slabs
- Park bathroom likely closed (CVS and street-level train station have ADA accessible bathrooms a 2-5 minute drive away. Greeter team giving rides to and from bathroom)
- We will keep a clear area for those praying Salah during the rally
- Water and Kosher for Passover snacks will be available at the Access Info Table
- Childcare including instrument making available for 2 years and up
- Safety/greeter teams with green armbands on-site to answer care and access questions day of
- Email solidarity@email.com with any questions

If you are not able to create paths to access, be honest and accountable to your future commitments

Include transparent financial info. Prioritize locations closest to public transportation and dedicate resources to paying for it

Bathroom access is often a reason folks can or can't join an action. Prioritize this whenever possible

Designate clear teams and contacts to focus on care and access coordination. This should include, but not rely solely on the most impacted folks

Clear masking expectations are one necessary way to honor our collective experience of pandemic and not leave people behind

Share info about any terrain conditions. If marching, offer transport from start to end points

Make sure seating is size/height accessible and make that known. Crowd-source this if not already on-site

Consider the access needs of those observing daily and/or holiday-specific spiritual customs

SAFETY TEAM AND SPEAKERS CAN CENTER ACCESS AND COLLECTIVE CARE BY...

- Always have an access /care team and point person who is made known and visible to participants (special arm bands work well)
- Make risk of state violence, arrest, and surveillance as clear as possible with an emphasis on keeping those most systemically targeted safe to participate
- Invite people with mobility devices to lead/set the pace in any marching
- Provide transportation or money for transportation/parking to and from actions
- If marching, have vehicles to transport folks from the starting point to the ending point if needed
- Chant slowly enough to allow folks to take good breaths
- Provide all information/instructions on the mic as well as in writing
- Mark care spaces in writing and illustrations (bathrooms, prayer space, low-stimulus space, childcare space, etc)
- Be aware that cops often target folks they perceive as visibly disabled AND that folks with mobility devices can do amazing work creating physical barriers and de-escalating (Fat Rose has great resources on this)

COLLECTIVE CARE, ACCESS, AND DISABILITY SOLIDARITY IN ORGANIZING

We need all of us—all of our bodies, all of our wisdom, all of our energy, all of our solidarity—and cannot afford to miss out on anyone’s contributions due to inaccessibility in our movements. This can be inaccessibility due to disability, financial access needs, neurodivergence, visible and invisible identities including race and gender that draw increased state violence, needs for childcare, transportation needs, and so much more.

MORE ON WHY WE VALUE ACCESS, DISABILITY, AND COLLECTIVE CARE IN PALESTINIAN SOLIDARITY WORK

- The ongoing genocidal war in Palestine is a strategic mass-disabling of a people
- Disabled people are often the first to lose access to necessary care and tools in all wars including the ongoing genocidal war in Palestine
- From the Abolition and Disability Justice Collective, “Disability justice cannot exist under settler colonialism, military occupation, imprisonment, and apartheid. We write this in support of the Palestinian struggle for freedom, dignity, and self-determination...Disability justice requires solidarity with Palestine.”

RESOURCES AND TOOLS THAT INFORMED THIS GUIDE

- Access Suggestions for Mobilizations \(UPDATED\) and older draft of Access Suggestions for Mobilizations by Sins Invalid who introduce the tool by saying, “In support of our current collective uprising, we offer these suggestions for making sure that your actions/ marches/ mobilizations include as many of us as possible. This work is ideally done from a deeper political commitment to disability justice, or at minimum a critique of ableism and an understanding of consent; otherwise paternalism and abuse can masquerade as ‘access support.’”
- #AltTextPalestine Toolkit for making visual/digital/text content significantly more accessible. In the organizer’s words, “#AltTextPalestine is an online, grassroots organizing campaign on Twitter created by disability activists to make information about the genocide in Palestine more accessible.”
- Nuts and Bolts of Disability Access from the SURJ Disability Collective is a practical guide to the questions we can ask ourselves, resources we can invest in, and disabled organizing wisdom for in and out of the streets.
- Comprehensive “Accessible Activism” guide from by Kolia Bene, shared through The NewBridge Project out of the UK
- A powerful guide to “Writing Good Accessibility Information” from Northern Irish trans, disabled activist and educator Ellen Murray.
- Special thanks to my fellow Hudson Valley Jew\(ish\) 4 Ceasefire organizers for support and feedback

MORE ON THE CONNECTIONS BETWEEN DISABILITY JUSTICE AND SOLIDARITY WITH PALESTINE

- Why Palestinian Liberation is Disability Justice by Alice Wong creator of the Disability Visibility Project
- Crip Call to Action: Why Disabled People Living in the US Need to be Calling for a Long Lasting Ceasefire in Israel-Palestine by Allie Cannington from the Disability Visibility Project
- Palestine is Disabled by Leah Lakshmi Piepzna-Samarasinha
- Statement of Solidarity with Palestine from the ADJC (Abolition and Disability Justice Collective)
- Fat Rose 4 Palestine